Author: SF/pb | Published: 07.07.2010

Petra Hajná has been appointed Green Business Manager for Skanska’s commercial projects in the Czech Republic and Poland. Her new role will be to support the company in their green activities. Petra has extensive experience from her previous work in sustainability at corporate level at Skanska as well as at their Czech construction unit. She holds the LEED (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) Accredited Professional certificate and so far she has been responsible for the green business support and internal education at Skanska group Central Europe units.

Petra Hajná was born in 1960, she graduated from Brno University of Technology, Faculty of Civil Engineering and University of South Bohemia, Faculty of Agriculture in České Budějovice. Subsequently attended professional training courses at CTU (Czech Technical University) focused on Design and layout of energy-efficient building. Since 2009, she has been accredited LEED specialist (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design). She gained work experience during her 2,5-year stay in Sweden and now she returns to the Czech Republic. Her hobbies include sport and travelling.

Further changes have been made at Skanska’s Commercial Development unit. Johan Hedve, head of leasing at Skanska Property Czech Republic, is joining the Green Business team in Sweden. He will be succeeded by Alexandra Tomášková who joined Skanska in February this year. The leasing team is currently recruiting new members in order to meet future demand.
