

Colliers: website for industrial property

Author: SF / pb | Published: 10.01.2012

Colliers International has launched a website intended for users of industrial property. Colliers-industrial.cz offers reports and an easy-to-use search engine of properties. By simply selecting one of the regions in the Czech Republic, you will obtain a detailed map of existing or planned industrial sites in the location. There is also information including property type, location, existing facilities and currently available vacant space.
