MIPIM 2012 is bringing together an internationally-respected market analyst, with a top international investor to share their insight and tips on the best investment opportunities in the current economic climate.

Jean-Michel Six, Chief Economist for Europe at Standard and Poor's and Bernhard Berg, Managing Director of IVG Institutional Funds GmbH will share their thoughts with MIPIM delegates on Wednesday, March 7 at 2:30 pm.

„For investors and developers, the main handicap today is lack of visibility in the marketplace. So it seemed important to shed more light on the international real estate situation for our delegates, and help them base their growth strategies on solid foundations. By combining an external take on the economy with international expertise in real estate investment, we can provide concrete answers for the entire range of real estate professionals,“ said Filippo Rean, Director of MIPIM.

About Standard and Poor´s

The U.S. rating agency Standard and Poor's is recognized worldwide for its monitoring and analyses of the country economic situations, especially Eurozone countries. The resulting ratings tell investors about the quality of debt in the Eurozone and the risks they run by holding bonds from those countries.
